The submitter will receive the communication whether the abstract is accepted or rejected within 10th March 2022.

ABSTRACT PREPARATION

Experiments and data collection must be completed at the time of the abstract submission. Abstracts for papers already published or accepted before the 11th ICGS deadline will not be accepted.

All abstracts must include the following headings: PURPOSE; METHODS; RESULTS AND CONCLUSION. Abstracts not conforming to this structured format will not be considered. Abstracts lacking a description of study methodology and a quantitative description of data will not be accepted. Abstracts without a topic category indicated will not be reviewed. The Scientific Committee puts great emphasis on conciseness and clarity when considering abstracts. Extensive presentations, overloaded with details, should therefore be avoided. Multiple submissions of the same topic on different abstracts will be rejected. The abstract must be written in English.
